From the Faculty Handbook, section XVII: "Leave is a privilege, not a right. Eligibility for a leave according to the policies spelled out below does not in itself constitute entitlement to that leave. No leave will be granted without the approval of the Dean of the FAS and the applicable department or program chair (in the Faculty of Arts and Sciences) or Dean (in the professional schools), in consultation with the Office of the Provost. A leave generally will be granted only if the department or program chair and Dean, are assured that the leave will not have adverse effects on the department's, program's or school's teaching, research program, or clinical or administrative responsibilities.

A significant exception to this condition exists in that Morse Fellowships, Junior Faculty Fellowships, and Associate Professor Leaves – where the benefit to the faculty member is paramount – will not be disallowed or delayed by reason of adverse effect on the department, program, or school. A faculty member may be denied a leave if, during the period since the initial appointment or the prior leave, he or she has not adequately met his or her responsibilities to teaching, research, clinical work, and administrative service."

* Leaves and teaching relief that qualify for a term extension.
